PARTY TREACHERY.

There are few, if any, offenses, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, more revolting to an intelligent, upright man than that of infidelity. It matters not whether it be treason to country, treachery to a political party, or ingratitude to a friend; each and all are alike repulsive to an honest mind Hence, there is a good degree of satisfaction experienced by Republicans in the fate which has overtaken many of their old comrades who deserted to the enemy in the late campaign

Aside from the warning which has been given to a few of the leaders who—like Schurz, Fenton and Sumner—are securely entrenched in official station for a time, the late election has consigned many once-trusted Republicans to oblivion. Of these are Trumbull and Farnsworth of Illinois, Blair of Michigan, Banks of Massachusetts, M'Clure, Marshall and many others of this State, and Greeley, Alvord, Depew and Littlejohn of New York State. These men have each been honored and trusted by the Republican party. They all cast their fortunes with the enemy in the late election, and all are beaten Let their fate be a warning to would-be political reformers. It should teach them and all others that the right place to work for the reformation of a party is within its organization, and not outside of it.

RESULTS.

The result of Grant's re-election, by a popular majority exceeding that, that ever placed any candidate in the Presidential Chair, is a crowning triumph of the people, in behalf of equal rights to all men before the law. It is an emphatic verdict in favor of that even and successful policy that has characterized the Administration of General Grant throughout his Presidential term thus far, and which has secured the rapid development of our internal wealth; a stimulation and growth of our industrial interests, that has materially improved the condition of the laborer and given him, as well as the whole country a degree of prosperity they never before experienced.

His election has not been only a pronouncement by the people in favor of continued peace, progress and reform, but a most forcible expression of the sovereign power of this government, that the grand ideas, embodied in the results of the recent war, are to be, beyond cavil, question, or dispute, that the rights of the individual citizen are to be respected, guarded and protected, whoever he may be, or wherever he may be, so long as he is a citizen of the United States; and that the right of a class to dictate, and limit the rights of another class or individual, in violation of the Supreme law of the land, must and cannot be recognized or tolerated, and must be forever abolished.

The re-election of President Grant, by the overwhelming majority he has received, is an evidence that Republics are not ungrateful, or incapable of appreciating the services of their great men. It was a great debt of gratitude, which the nation paid to the nation's GREAT CHIEF. The services of General Grant, in rescuing our country from the throttling hand of treason, rebellion &c., were too highly appreciated by the American people, to allow them to be shriveled by the drivelling penny aliners who would underrate them by foul aspersions, and base scandal, and by a weak petty and defamatory effort to vilify his personal character, and detract from his greatness as a man, a soldier and an executive officer. But a grateful people have most decidedly vindicated his private and public character, and showed their estimation of his worth as a soldier and a civilian; they have most positively given the lie to the false and scandalous charges, that have been heaped upon him by a degenerate and unscrupulous press. Let the result be acquiesced in, as it becomes an intelligent and free people, and a great nation. Instead of trying to corrupt public sentiment, and prejudice the public mind against the powers that be, let the press of the country be fair and just in its criticisms of public men, and Administrations, and try to educate the popular mind to support, a policy which will be promotive of the public good and the nations weal, and not captiously oppose every measure of the administration, whether it be good or bad indiscriminately, merely out of partizan perverseness, and thus weaken the administration's power for good, and retard the progress so healthful to our nation.

IN THE NAME AND BY THE AUTHORITY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENN'A.

JOHN W. GEARY, Gov.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Believing in the Lord, our covenant God in whom our fathers trusted, and in His controlling Providence over the affairs of men and nations, a public acknowledgment of His goodness and of our constant dependence upon Him is eminently becoming an enlightened and civilized people. Now, therefore, impressed with these sentiments, in pursuance of a revered custom, and in conformity with the Proclamation of Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, recommending that Thursday, the 28th day of November next, be set apart as a day of Praise, Prayer and Thanksgiving; I. JOHN W. GEARY, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do most respectfully request the citizens of this State to observe that day as such, with all due respect and solemnity. Let thanks be given to Almighty God that he has bestowed upon us all the common blessings of life, given us health, and relieved us from pestilence; that labor is abundantly rewarded; that we have no dread of impending famine, or fear of industrial or commercial distress; that the arts, sciences, general education, and the sentiments of peace and good will are steadily advancing. Let us be especially thankful for the great privileges of American citizenship; for the untrammelled expression of opinion; that our political rights still remain safe under beneficent laws and in the hands of an order loving people; and that "equal and exact justice" is vouchsafed to all. For these, and for all other civil, social, and religious blessings we enjoy, let us yield the sincere tribute of grateful hearts, and humbly beseech their continuance.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-seventh.

By the Governor,

JOHN W. GEARY.

F. JORDAN, Sect of the Commonwealth.

RATHER.—Jos. McCloskey, who has filled the office of County Commissioner for the last three years, retired on Thursday, the 7th inst., to make way for his successor in office, Mr. Austin Hinton. Mr. McCloskey, (although we must say we never liked his politics,) made a clever, accommodating officer, and we think endeavored, conscientiously to perform the duties of the office. If complaint could be made in any quarter, it would be in the fact that defaulting collectors or their bail were not compelled to pay into the treasury the amounts they had collected and wrongfully applied to their own use. But we are inclined to think that in this, if any blame attaches, it should fall upon the Ring members and not upon Mr. McCloskey as we feel confident he meant right, but was too often over-ruled.—During three years that Mr. McCloskey served as commissioner, we received many acts of kindness—showing not only that he is a very clever accommodating man: but that he is not nearly so tight in the hide politically as some people might imagine. Joseph, we wish you now, since you have returned to the farm, good crops and abundant prosperity.

BEAUTIFUL.—Michael GROVE an excellent and prosperous farmer of Benner township brought to town last week a load of the largest and finest rambo's that we have ever seen. The flavor too, was excellent. We tried them. We suggested that he should send Greeley a few bushels to let him see what the Democrats of Centre county "know about farming"; but he replied that Greeley was a fraud and if he wanted apples he might raise them, or write a book on what he knows about running for President, and thus accumulate the stamps with which to purchase his winter supply. That Benner township did not take much stock in Greeley and Brown the returns of the election abundantly proves. We hope to number Benner twp., next fall with the Republican townships.

The number of votes cast is 561,650, of which Grant and Wilson received 349,689, and Greeley and Brown 211,961, giving the Republican candidates a majority on the popular vote of 137,728.

Of the 31 counties which voted for Buckalew in October 19 cast their ballots for Grant and Wilson leaving 12 for the Greeley and Brown electors The counties which changed from the Democratic to the Republican side of the state are: Adams, Bedford, Bucks, Cambria, Carbon, Centre, Clarion, Clinton, Cumberland, Fayette, Juniata, Luzerne, Montgomery Montour, Northumberland, Schuylkill, Wayne, Westmoreland and Wyoming. Those sticking to Greeley, but in a most shaky manner, are: Berks, Clearfield, Columbia, Elk, Fulton, Greene, Lehigh, Monroe, Northampton, Pike, Sullivan, and York, all with majorities enormously reduced when compared with the October vote—Buckalew's majorities in these being 20,021, and Greeley's 8,808. From this showing it is evident that the Democrats were better content to accept General Grant than to endorse Greeley.

The October vote was heavier than the November one, from the fact that both parties felt that it would virtually decide the Presidential election. The total then was 671,147, showing that 109,497 persons who cast their ballots for Hartranft and for Buckalew remained away from the polls at the Presidential election. Of that total Hartranft received 353,387 votes and Buckalew 317,760, the former's majority being 35,627. The vote for the Republican electors is 349,689, indicating a loss from Hartranft's vote of 3,698, while the Democratic Liberals lost from Buckalew's vote, 105,799 to which add 3,698, and we have the number of citizens who voting in October declined to use their right at the November election.

In 1868 President Grant received 342,280 votes in this State, to 313,382 for Seymour, the total vote being 655,652, and his increase this year on 1868, is 7,409, while Greeley falls off from Seymour's vote 101,421. These figures speak for themselves, and we leave the subject of the late election for the contemplation of our readers without any comment.

LOCAL NEWS.

[For the REPUBLICAN.]

HOWARD.—Howard is looking up. It is extending its limits and beautifying its appearance with the erection of quite a number of new dwellings, and buildings for business of an improved and modern character. Its inhabitants are full of enterprise, wide-awake and resolved on making Howard the rival of any town in the county. Among the pushing fellows you meet there, is Jenkins of Hardware fame, who runs his business successfuliy for his own interests, as well as to accommodate the public. Cook on the opposite corner from Jenkins does a first class mercantile business, with an eye single to the good of the place, modestly keeping self in view. Lucases, on the corner at the depot, are genial wholesouled fellows, and accommodate a large custom in their line. Aleck Knoll, Esq., runs the only hotel in the place. He does it exclusively on temperance principles very much to his own distaste, and that of many of his patrons no doubt.

That however which seems to have given Howard the greatest impetus, is the enterprising firm of Lauth & Thomas the successors of the Howard Iron Company, and owners of their works. They are now actively engaged in repairing the blast furnace, the buildings around, and all the working materiel pertaining to the same. They are rapidly collecting on the bank a stock of Ore and charcoal preparatory to starting the furnace, which if their mines operate successfully so as to yield a sufficient supply will be done about the first of January next. Their Rolling Mills are being run to their full capacity, turning out the best quality of bar and other iron.

Capt. Austin Curtin the outside manager, is quite enthusiastic in his efforts to have work's, (blast furnace) again started in the most promising and successful manner.

Messrs Lauth & Thomas, are practical men, and having had large expetience in the iron business, and being men of capital, there is no doubt of their enterprise being one of success and profit.—The more firms such as their's, that Centre county can induce to become her citizens the better it will be for all our interests; secure their profitable development; increase our wealth, and make us rapidly a more prosperous and wealthy people It is needless to state that the political idea of Howard is Republicanism, and that it is steadily advancing and gaining strength. Even our friend Perry McDowell, whose mill turns out the best quality of flour and meal, is almost disgusted with democracy, and accepts the result of Grant's re election as highly satisfactory. G.

[For the REPUBLICAN.]

MESSRS EDITORS:—The election is over, didn't we flax 'em though? Notwithstanding Meek's sugar coated pills, Greeley could not be swallowed by the honest portion of the Democratic party. They all declared against Greeley. (I mean the Democrats of Huston, and I presume elsewhere the same) as soon as they heard of his nomination at Baltimore; but some of them played sharp. They would not go to the election polls and vote for him; but they paired off with Republicans, and kept some of them from voting. While others voted the sugar coated ticket, and then swore they had not voted for Greeley. But the most of them stood firm to their principals, and did not go to the polls, nor yet pair off. One Democrat, Mr. John Gingerich, being an inspector, of course, was there all day; but did not vote, and I give him credit for his firmness to principle. I think that at the next election he will be a good Republican. But I must say there were some that I was deceived in. Some that declared against Greeley first, last and all the time; yet came to the polls and voted for him. Yes we had eleven (11) democrats that voted the Greeleys electors, and I do think that Greeley is in duty bound to send eleven white hats to cover the heads of these immortal eleven. LOCUST.

REMOVAL.—Dr. L. M. Holloway, of Jacksonville Marion tp., has removed to Akron Ohio, where he intends, entering into partnership, in the practice of Medicine with his brother J. K. Holloway. Dr. L. E. Holloway is a young Physician of great learning and ability and a young man of whom Centre county may well feel proud. It is with sorrow we part with him; while we have no hesitancy in recommending him to the people of Akron. He is a jewel, and we hope as such the good people of Akron will receive him.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF SNOW SHOE CITY COUNCIL, No. 274, O. U. A. M.

BELLEFONTE, PA., NOV. 16, 1872.

COL W. W. BROWN:

In pursuance of an invitation extended by Snow Shoe City Council, No. 274, O. U. A. M. to Bellefonte Council, No. 270, O U. A. M, to attend the first anniversary of their Council, your correspondent, in company with Bro's E J. McGinley; A. R. S, W. Long and I. Jas. Dawson, accompanied by Mr H Clark Brown and Dr J. C. McIntire, left this place, on Thursday evening last, for Snow Shoe. After about three hours of dreary travel over the mountains, we arrived at our destination, where we were made the guests of the Washington House, kept by our genial friend—and by the way a first class landlord—John Uzzle. After refreshing the inner man, we repaired to the comfortable rooms of 274, where we met the entire Council, numbering about fifty members, and Deputy S. C., A. H. Cox and Brother Isaac Dawson, of Bellefonte Council, who had arrived on the evening train via B. & S. S. R. R.

At 8 o'clock the Council was called to order and proceeded with the regular order of business, which lasted about two hours.

After this was concluded. Brother Deputy S. C, A. H. Cox, of 270. was called, who responded in a neat and telling speech, in which he explained the objects of the order and the nature of the principles contained therein. He also congratulated the members of Snow Shoe City Council on their success and hoped that they might prosper fully as well in the future as in the past.

After which Bro., Jr Ex C., D. H. Yeaghar, of 274, was called, who spoke as follows:

SIRS AND BROTHERS: This being our first anniversary, I would beg leave to advance a few remarks for the benefit o the order. In the first place, we are all aware of the fact that the e still exists, in the minds of some a prejudice against our order, and we should each one of us d m it a pleasant duty, to contribute his share of the labor whenev r called upon towards eradicating that ill-feeling and prejudice.

So l t a united effort be made by the members of the order to accomplish it, and it only remains for each and every member of our order, to firmly resolve that he will use all honorable means without exposing the secrets of our order, to bring about this desirable result, and that it would be a grand success is a question that admits of no argument.

Indeed it is a fact patent to us all, that there can be a great deal of good done for the order in that way, if every brother will put his shoulder to the wheel and keep it moving.

But before we do this, let us commence in the Council Chamber; in that spirit of activity, which characterizes the membership—a strong feeling of brotherly love permeating the whole, the regular attendance of the members at the meetings, a general observance of the rules laid down for our guidance, and a strict adherance to our obligations as members of the order. A firm resolve of an unwavering mind accomplishes much.

So in this spirit let us all work, each one endeavoring to outdo the other in the good work of building up our Council with the RIGHT KIND OF MATERIAL, and making their influence for good, felt more and more by the public.

If we but do this we will soon be known through out the entire length and breadth of our beloved country, in consequence of the great and glorious deeds we have performed.

With these few remarks I will close, in order to give some other brother an opportunity to address you who may be more competent than I.

Bro. V. C., Jas. T. Curtin, of 270, was then called, who briefly responded.

Bro. Sr. Ex C., J. H. Crissman, of 274. then arose and made a neat and appropriate speech, showing the advantages gained by festive occasions like the present. He also referred to the progress of the order everywhere throughout the Union, and closed his remarks by reading the following beautiful poem:

"THE MECHANIC."

"Mechanics! whose toil is the wealth of the nation,
Whose breasts are its bulwarks when danger is nigh;
Though humble your lot and despised your vocation,
You have honor and wealth that the world cannot buy.
The minion of wealth may affect to despise you,
Pronouncing you ignorant, sordid and base,
But the moment will come that shall teach them to prize you,
The scorn they have written, themselves shall erase.

"Not theirs is the hand that can turn back the billow
That threatens to sweep o'er our altars and homes,
They may live in the breeze that but plays with the willow,
But woe unto them when the hurricane comes,
They must call upon you in the moment of danger,
When the war banner spreads its red fold to the air,
When our homes are assailed by the hands of a stranger,
And our valleys re-echo with the cries of despair.

"Where of Rome's faded grandeur her ruins are telling,
Where Athens' proud temples reflect each the sun,
In Palmyra's streets, now the jackal's lone dwelling,
Are recorded the triumphs by industry won.
There is not a nation where science has flourished,
There is not a land where the arts have adorned
But your valor has guarded, your industry nourished,
Through glory and shame, the degraded and scorned.

"Your labor in peace, like a bright living fountain,
Sends rivers of wealth to replenish the earth,
And in war, like the storm-beaten rock of the mountain,
You ward off the blast from the land of your birth;
But when peace, like the sun, o'er your country is shining,
For the wealth you bestow they pay you with sneers,
And the wounds you have borne in her cause unrepining,
Ingratitude bathes with adversity's tears.

"When the herald of fame in the annals of story
The deeds of a hero proclaims through the land
The monument raised to emblazon his glory,
And the deeds they record are the work of thy hand.
But what is your reward when the conflict is ended?
Or where is your nich in the temple of fame?
The laurels you won with another's are blended,
And darkness still rests on the artisan's name.

"Yet bow not your hearts to a proud man's reviling,
More noble in sorrow than he is in pride;
At each man's disdain with true dignity smiling,
Your acts will rebuke when your lot they deride.
Let hope cheer your path though despised and neglected,
Be virtue your shield when temptation is nigh,
By honor's bright code be your acts ne directed,
Deserve and demand the respect they deny.

"For as you languished in darkness and sorrow,
Toiling on for the wealth that another must reap;
Each day of regret but the type of to-morrow,
As wave reflects wave o'er the face of the deep.
But one after one your chains have been riven

BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, Nov. 20th, 1872

SHE STAMMERED, SHE DID.

BY JOHN G. SAXE.

When deep in love with Miss Emily Pryne
I vowed if the lady would only be mine,
I would always endeavor to please her.
She blushed her consent, though the stuttering lass
She said never a word except "You're an as—
An ass—an ass—idious teaser"

But when we were married, I found to my ruth
The stammering lady had spoken the truth;
For often in obvious dudgeon
She'd say—if I ventured to give her a jog
In the way of reproof—"You're a dog—dog—dog—
A dog—a dog—matic curmudgeon."

And once when I said "We can hardly afford
This extravagant style with our moderate hoard,"
And hinted she ought to be wiser,
She looked, I assure you, exceedingly blue,
And fretfully cried, "You're a Jew—Jew—Jew
A very ju—dicious adviser."

And whenever it happened that, wishing to shirk
Some rather unpleasant and arduous work,
I begged her to go to a neighbor,
She wanted to know why I made such a fuss,
And saucily said, "You're a cuss—cuss—cuss—cuss—
You were always a—cuss—tomed to labor!"

Out of temper at last with the insolent dame,
And feeling the woman was greatly to blame
To scold me instead of caressing,
I mimicked her speech, like a churl as I am,
And angrily said, "You're a dam—da—a—dam—
A dam—age instead of a blessing."

A WOMAN'S DEVOTION.

WHAT WAS ACCOMPLISHED BY A FAITHFUL WIFE.

The Governor of Missouri has recently pardoned an inmate of the penitentiary, under circumstances which furnish a remarkable and touching instance of what a devoted, trusting and energetic wife can do for an unfortunate husband. The latter used to live in Toledo, Ohio, and the facts of his case are vouched for by respectable journals of that place. Some time ago he removed to Missouri with his wife, and early in 1870 the events fell out that proved so disastrous to him. It appears that he was not very prosperous, and had occasion to sell—as nearly the last of his possessions—a pair of fine horses. For these he recieved $500 in clean, new national currency.

The stock-dealer who bought the horses afterward disappeared. On the next day after the sale the vender paid out two bills of $10 each. It was discovered that they were counterfeit, and the utterer was promptly arrested and lodged in prison. He, of course, directly protested his innocence, and told how he got the money; and the remaining $480 was found on his person. The horse-dealer was traced and brought forward, when, to the horror and amazement of the accused man, he stoutly denied all knowledge of the bad bills, and swore the money he had paid for the horses was in bills of an Illinois bank. No confirmatory evidence of the prisoner's tale could be got, and, so much counterfeit money had lately been circulated in that region, public feeling ran strongly against him. He was tried, and, despite his earnest protestation, and his wife's determined struggles in his behalf, he was found guilty, and sentenced to five years' imprisonment to the penitentiary.

But the wife never for a moment believed him guilty; and, with astonishing resolution and pertinacity she now bent herself to the task of proving his innocence and effecting his release. To the latter end she first sought and obtained interviews with the Governor of Missouri. To him she stated her case as she saw and believed it. But the Governor, although kind, was firm. The prisoner had been shown to be guilty. It was necessary to make examples, and there was every just reason why her husband should be one of them. He could hold out no hope save in the condemned's restoration to his family after five years. The wife went home, converted all she had into cash, and thenceforward devoted her whole time and brain to following the horse-dealer who had given her husband the spurious notes, with the hope of convicting the real guilty person of that offense.

Pursuing him like a shadow, but keeping out of his sight, she soon found that when he went to a place counterfeit money was said to be in circulation soon after. This happened at Freeport, Ill., and afterwards at Fort Wayne, Ind. At the latter place she caused his arrest, but nothing could be proved against him and he was set free. She then dogged him to Canton, Ohio, to Pittsburg, Altoona, Lancaster, Columbia, Chambersburg, Philadelphia, Goshen, Binghampton, Oswego, Elmira and other towns in New York, sometimes staying two or three months in each place. The man was, however, so guarded and ingenious as always to manage to cover his tracks; in fact, he never passed false "paper" himself at all, and his implacable pursuer was unable to bring him to account. At last however, he fell ill at Newton, Sussex county, N. J., and she believed and proved that her golden opportunity was at last at hand.

When the horse-dealer fell ill, the wife of his victim was at the same hotel. She found out the physician attending him and frankly told her whole story. She described how she had tracked the cause of her husband's misfortunes, and begged the doctor for the sake of right and justice to help her. The physician was moved by her tale, and agreed to do what she asked, which was to give his patient some depressing but safe medicine, and adroitly to lead him to think that he was in a very critical condition. This was accordingly done and worked to a charm. The patient begged at once for a clergyman, who, arriving, pointed out the necessity of full repentance, and at this juncture the wife entered the room and implored the supposed dying man to repair the great wrong he had done her husband.

The result was that the sufferer made a deposition before a magistrate, confessing that he had passed the five hundred dollars, as described, and, furthermore, that he was a member of an extensive gang of counterfeiters, his special business being, not to utter bad money, but to spread it among confederates in different parts of the country. He also said that on the occasion of making the trade in question he happened to have no other money, and greatly wanted the horse. Armed with this document the now happy woman hastened back to Missouri laid her evidence before the Governor, and had the satisfaction of carrying a full pardon to her husband almost immediately after. The two are now living joyfully together on a farm in Southern Illinois, and their case is naturally attracting abundant comment and congratulation.—N. Y. Times.

American History in Brief.

The following important facts in the history of the settlement and progress of the United States will be found interesting, and may save the reader as much time as they cost the compiler:

Grant has never been beaten and never will be, so said Horace Greeley and he has found his prediction true.

Centre county has done her duty well. The vote shows that Gen. Grant's vote in the county is 150 less than that of Gen. Hartranft in October while Mr Greeley falls behind Buckalew 1017 votes.

Fully 100 Democrats voted for Gen. Grant so that 250 Republicans, at least, remained away from the polls.

We invite the Democrats who voted for Grant and those who refused to eat crow to join the Republican party and assist us to carry out the true "Reform" Come Republicans we congratulate you.

THE INK AND THE WATER.—"I don't see why you won't let me play with Will Hunt," pouted Walter Kirk, "I know he does not always mind his mother, and he smokes cigars, and once in a while swears just a little. But I have been brought up better than that; he won't hurt me. I should think you would trust me. I might do him some good."

"Waltar," said his mother, "take the glass of pure clear water, and put just one drop of ink into it."

"Oh, mother, who would have thought that one drop would blacken a whole glass so?

"Yes, it has changed the color of the whole, has it not? It is a shame to do that. Just put a drop of clear water into it and restore its purity," said Mrs. Kirk.

"Why, mother, you are laughing at me. One drop, nor a dozen, nor fifty, won't do that."

"No, my son, and, therefore, I cannot allow one drop of his evil nature to mingle with your purity."

SOME BREWERY.—The largest brewery in the world is that of Barclay, Perkins & Co., London. They use annually 18,000 bales of hops, and make 1,000,000 barrels of ale and porter. Their place covers twelve acres in the heart of London, for which they recently refused the sum of $20,000,000, or $1,750,000 per acre. Barclay, Perkins & Co. use 9,000 pounds of hops and 12,500 bushels of malt daily. They make 1750 barrels of beer at a brewing. Their porter is stowed in 172 large tubs, each holding from 1,500 to 3,000 barrels. Talk about big barrels! Why, they have seven casks called the "seven sisters," which hold 3,000 barrels each. They are 50 feet high and 30 feet in diameter. Their draft horses are the marvel of all London.—They have 162 of the splendid 19 hand horses, worth $700 apiece. They are so heavy as to wear out an inch thick horse-shoe in one or two weeks.

Bad-Tempered People.

The state of the stomach, we are told, has a great deal to do with the temper, the natural result being that when a man's liver is out of order his temper is in the same condition. This may be true enough, but question very much whether the liver is answerable for all the sins which are laid at its door. We know many very bad-tempered people who, to our knowledge, have never been really bilious in the whole coarse of their lives. Of course it may be alleged that if the liver is all right something else is all wrong—the nerves, or the heart, or the lungs, or the teeth are driving poor sufferers almost to distruction This, also, may be correct. But it must be admitted that there are many pleasant beings who never complain of being afflicted by any special complaint, whose existence, for all that, is one of chronic ill-humor, who snap and snarl when they are spoken to, and sulk when left to themselves. A good many of these "gentle creatures" will, in intervals of comparative good humor, tell you to your face that they are bad-tempered, that they always have been, and that they always will be. They may support the information by declaring that their fathers and great-grandfathers were similarly afflicted, though not, perhaps, to the same extent. They apparently glory in the admission of their weakness, evidently considering that an out-and-out bad temper is a possession of which a man has some reason to be extremely proud. They do not appear to recognize the fact that bad temper is a positive vice and that they have, or ought to have, any control over it. They regard it rather in the light of disease, which, like fever, must be allowed to run its course unchecked. Naturally it is not pleasant to have much to do with these people; indeed, it is questionable whether it is possible for many to hold close and long-continued intercourse with them. Generally such intercourse is brought to a conclusion by a terrible row, in which the sufferers from bad temper display their infirmities in a thorough fashion. They say things not compatible with the laws and usages of polite society, and do that which certainly is the reverse of proper. Timid beings are almost frightened to death, and, to abate the furies, are ready to swallow the leek to any extent. The furies, probably, feel some slight twinges of compunction after their temper has cooled, and, perhaps, half apologize, by laying the blame upon their passionateness. The injured ones, longing for peace, perhaps, accept the explanation, but they never forget, and are afterwards are cold and distant, and watchful and suspicious. These bad-tempered people are ever on the lookout for insults. When they are servants their proud spirits chafe at being told to do their duty by their employers. They kick at authority, and cannot brook reproof. They are constantly on the lookout for things at which to take offence. If they hold subordinate positions they come to loggerheads with the manager, head-clerk, or foreman, as the case may be. When they occupy positions of authority themselves they play the part of tyrants. They get into a furious rage at trifles, decline to allow a helpless culprit to exonerate himself by rendering explanations, and inflict Draconian punishments. Naturally, they are pretty generally detested; but, while they are detested, they are feared, which, it may be said, is not the case with another class of bad-tempered people.

This class is more sulky than passionate. There seems to lie within them a smouldering mine of irritation, which is bubbling forth night and day—that is, of course, when they are awake. If they are asked an ordinary question, much asperity is evident in the tones of their reply. As a rule, they are angry at nothing in particular, and with no one in particular—they are simply, in a continual confoundedly bad temper; they do not know why, and no one else can account for it except upon the supposition that it is natural to the animal. Their faces have ever a sound and wrinkled appearance, the natural result of long-continued scowling and frowning. They are pleasant people to live with if you are a Mark Tapley, and want to show how you can be jolly under the most trying circumstances. You will not be able to do anything to please the afflicted ones. They snarl at breakfast, dinner and tea, there being always something distasteful to them. They growl at you; and, do what you will, you are quite unable to despise them. They terrify the servants, who in despair, give warning. They scold their children, who betake themselves off whenever they imagine they can do so with safety. They testily lecture their wives, and unfavorable criticise the domestic management. In short, they make themselves universally disagreeable, completely destroying their own peace of mind, and do a great deal toward making other people miserable. But, though they are always in bad temper, and eyer snapping and snarling, they avoid downright quarrels. They may go to the verge of one, but no further will they proceed. Nor will they ever admit that they are, or have been, in a bad temper. Other people's imaginations must have led them astray, or they would not think of such a thing for a moment. A good many people of this class are particularly testy in the earlier part of the day, and comparatively placable in the latter. This idiosyncrasy is studied by people who know what they are about. Such always make application for favors during the latter period, as well as do what business they can then. Like almost everything, this chronic bad temper is a luxury which can only be indulged in by the comparatively well-to-do. Poor men, though they may have the inclination to do so, can not afford to snarl at almost everybody with whom they are brought in contact. They know that by so doing they would be taking the bread and butter out of their own mouths, and this is a consideration which controls, to a great extent, even the most irritable. Acting upon the principle, however, that there is within them a certain amount of snappishness which must be expanded, such people visit an extra quantity upon those who come within their clutches, and from whom they have nothing to fear. Probably a certain kind of morbid pleasure is derived from indulgence in ill-temper. People, by acting as we have indicated, secure a certain amount of outward show and deference; for somehow or other, most persons would almost as soon be struck as snarled at, and so they do all they can to avoid such treatment. Really, however, we fail to see why bad-tempered men and women should receive such tender consideration. Their bad temper is nothing more or less than an abominable vice, and those who indulge in it are supremely selfish. Their troubles are no more to them than are troubles to other people, so there is no reason why they should be so splenetic. Righteous anger is justifiable, but chronic ill-humor is a failing for which there can be nothing but the bitterest condemnation.

Jenkins Goes to a Picnic.

Maria Ann recently determined to go to a picnic.

Maria Ann is my wife—unfortunately. She had planned it to alone, so far as I was concerned, on that picnic excursion, but when I heard it I determined to assist. She pretended she was very glad, but I don't believe she was.

"It will do you good to get away from work a day," she said, "and we shall so much enjoy a cold morning ride on the cars and a dinner in the woods."

On the morning of that memorable day Maria Ann got up at five o'clock. About three minutes later she disturbed my repose and told me to come out to breakfast. I told her I wasn't hungry, but it didn't make a bit of difference I had to get up. The sun was up; I had no idea the sun commenced business so early in the morning, but there he was.

"Now," said Maria Ann, "we must fly around for the cars start at half past six. Eat all the breakfast you can, for you won't get anything before noon."

I could not eat anything at that time in the morning, and it was just as well that I could not, for I had all that I could do. There was ice to be pounded to go around the pail of ice cream, and the sandwiches to be cut, and I thought I never should fix the legs of the chicken so that I could get the cover on the big basket. Maria Ann flew around and piled up groceries for me to pack, and gave directions to the girl about taking care of the house, and was putting on her dress all at once. There is a great deal of energy in that woman—perhaps a trifle too much.

At twenty minutes past six I stood on the steps with a basket on one arm, and Maria Ann's waterproof on the other, and a pail in each hand, and a bottle of vinegar in my coat-skirt pocket. There was a camp chair hung on me somewhere, too, but I forget just where.

"Now," said Maria Ann, we must run or we shall not catch the cars."

"Maria," said I, that is a reasonable idea. How do you expect I can run with all this freight?"

"You must, you brute. You always try to tease me. If you don't want a scene in the street you will start too."

So I ran.

I had one comfort at least Maria Ann fell down and broke her parasol. She called me a brute again for laughing at her. Maria Ann drove me all the way to the depot on a brisk trot, and we got on the cars; but neither of us could get a seat, and I could not find a place where I could set the things down, so I stood there and held them.

"Maria," I said, "how is this for a cool morning ride?"

Said she, "You are a brute Jenkins."

Said I, "My love, you made that observation before."

I kept my courage up, yet I knew there would be an hour of warmth when we got home. While we were getting out of the cars the bottle in my pocket got broke, and consequently I had my boot full of vinegar all day. That kept me pretty quiet; and Maria Ann ran off with a big whiskered music teacher, and lost her fan, and got her feet wet, and tore her dress, and enjoyed herself so much, after the fashion of picnic goers. And Maria Ann called me a pig because I wanted to open our basket before the rest of the baskets were opened.

At last dinner time came—the "nice dinner in the woods," you know. Over three thousand little red ants had got into our dinner, and they were worse to pick out than fish bones. The ice cream had melted, and there was no vinegar for the cold meat, except what was in my boot, and of course that was of no immediate use. The music teacher spilled a cup of coffee on Maria's head, and pulled all the frizzles out trying to wipe off the coffee with his handkerchief. Then I sat on a raspberry pie and spoiled my white pants, and concluded I didn't want anything more. I had to stand up against a tree the rest of the afternoon. The day afforded considerable variety compared with everyday life, but there was so many little drawbacks that I did not enjoy it as much as I might have done.

STATE NEWS

—The Harrisburg letter carriers, during the month of October, collected 12,425 letters and newspapers, and delivered 46,490.

—The Penn Yan Express says the rains of last week were just what was needed; they raised the water in Seneca Lake sixteen inches; the mills have commenced grinding wheat, and flour has gone down one dollar a barrel.

—A man named Reed, from the States of New York, was drowned at Cape's Mills, Sullivan county, about the 1st day of June, last, and his body was not recovered till a few days ago, when it was found in Loyalsock Creek, near Montoursville, Lycoming county, where it is supposed to have been carried by the late freshet.

—Michael Moore, the Cambria county wife murderer, will be executed on the 27th inst. The first words he uttered after hearing his death warrant read a few days ago were "Three cheers for that." May an outraged God in His infinite mercy and goodness have mercy on the soul of this hardened criminal.

—An active temperance campaign is going on under the auspices of the Good Templars in some parts of Northumberland county. Were the opponents of the rum traffic everywhere to take an earnest, active part in such campaign, we perdict that the goal of their ambition in this direction would be reached in the near future.

—The Mayor of Titusville has issued a proclamation, that the city will not require a license of any persons who wish to use their teams within the city limits during the term of three weeks. This is done to relieve the business men, who are deprived of transportation by the prevalence of the horse disease.

"Six days will I labor, and on the eve of the seventh get drunk and butcher any man against whom I have a dislike," seems to be the weekly resolve of the average rough of the period.

—Chapmad township, Clinton county, gives Grant 71; Greeley 40. A majority of 31. At the October election Bucksalew had a majority of 8.

—Mr. Willard H. Edwards, for several months night editor on the Erie Dispatch, has accepted a situation on the Cleveland Herald.

—It is reported that the Western Union Telegraph Company have applied for an injunction restraining the working of all opposition lines in the United States, claiming the operation of such line, under the present system, is a violation of the celebrated Page patent, the improvements of which are claimed to be included in the Morse system. The Morse patent expired more than ten years ago, but the Page patent was purchased by the Western Union Company a few years since.

—A Democrat went to the polls yesterday, in this city, took the Republican electoral ticket, scratched all the names from it except Mr. Forten, the colored man, and voted for him. He thought he might as well go for a negro as for that old abolitionist Greeley.—Williamsport Epitomist.

—The Laporte Standard has information that during the recent flood, the dam of the Muncy Creek Improvement Company, above Sonestown, was carried away by the high water on Saturday last. Sonestown was flooded, the water being three feet deep in the main street. Various other improvements farther down the creek were swept away. The loss to the company is about three thousand dollars.

—The philosopher of the Standard says: "Democracy is founded on a rock, and to that rock you must cling for political salvation." As the "rock" was torn from its base yesterday during the Grant tornado which swept over the land, we think clinging to it will be rather a risky job. The pesky thing might roll.—Gazette & Bulletin.

—A liquor dealer at Niagara Falls thought to make a hit in the advertising line by hiring a peripatetic Hibernian to carry about the streets a transparency, setting forth the goodness and abundance of his liquors. A temprance party, however, chartered a boy to follow with a transparency reading: "Cursed be he that putteth the cup to his brother's lips." It was a general conclusion that the boy behind was ahead of the boy in front.

—Several attempts have lately been made to wreck passenger trains on the Pennsylvania railroad, one of which was made near West Chester, causing, besides the partial wreck of a train, the death of an engineer and fireman. The company offer a reward of $10,000 and a life pass over all their lines for information that will cause the arrest of the party or parties engaged in this fiendish work.

JURUBEBA

BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a physic which may give a momentary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which, from continued use brings Piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid nor is it a doctored liquor, which, under the popular name of "Bitters" is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but it is a MOST POWERFUL TONIC AND ALTERATIVE, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

DR. WELL'S EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA, retains all the medical virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

IS THERE WANT OF ACTION IN YOUR LIVER & SPLEEN? Unless relieved at once, the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, Blotches, Felons, Pustules, Canker, Pimples, &c., &c.,

Take JURUBEBA to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

HAVE YOU A DYSPEPTIC STOMACH? Unless digestion is promptly aided the system is debilitated with loss of vital force, poverty of the Blood, Dropsical Tendency, General Weakness or Lassitude.

Take it to assist Digestion without reaction, it will impart youthful vigor to the weary sufferer.

HAVE YOU WEAKNESS OF THE INTESTINES? You are in danger of Chronic Diarrhoea or the dreadful Inflammation of the Bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammations.

HAVE YOU WEAKNESS OF THE UTERINE OR URINARY ORGANS? You must procure instant relief of you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases. JOHN Q. KELLOGG, 18 Platt St., New York, Sole Agent for United States. Price One Dollar per Bottle. Send for Circular. 44-4t

DEFEATED, AND WHY.

Three columns of reasons which are not reasons, says the North American of the 9th inst., scarcely suffices the New York World in apology for the overwhelming defeat of the coalition. Its excuse is only an attempt to conceal the true cause from the Democratic masses, and like the dishonest policy it extenuates, the plea is doomed to failure. It is true that the immense majorities for Grant and Wilson should not be regarded as the measure of Grant's popularity. They simply indicate the popularity of the President as compared with the popularity of Horace Greeley. But more truly these immense majorities measure popular contempt for Democratic trickery. The adoption of Mr. Greeley by the Baltimore Convention was a palpably dishonest act. It only needed that to knock the bottom out of Liberal Republicanism. It needed just that to disgust the sincere rank and file of the Democratic party. This trick, we have been over and over again assured, was the work of Democratic statesmen. It is not worth while to dispute that assertion. Perhaps it is well enough to accept the assurance, and let that silly scheme stand as the measure of Democratic statesmanship,

The disadvantage of falsehood is, that it requires no end of falsehood to defend and excuse it. The nomination of Horace Greeley was a flagrant deception, a misrepresentation of motives, of purposes, and of objects. It met the doom of all transparent trickery, ignominious failure. The coalition is stone dead. Living, it was a curse to its parties; and dying, it leaves the conspirators without a rag to cover them. The cause of its annihilation is not obscure, and it may be stated in twenty words—popular contempt for a party which declared in national convention that it had no principles which anybody was bound to respect. That is the explanation of this fearful overthrow. Democratic organs may fill their editorial pages full of reasons, and yet the reason is precisely as we have stated it above. Having made an inexcusable blunder at Baltimore, the Democratic leaders show their cowardice and hopeless Bourbonism by endeavoring to lead public attention away from the fact. This is new evidence that they are incapable of learning anything, even under the rod of popular displeasure

As for Liberal Republicanism, its chief organ rushes into the extreme of folly in trying to hide away from the well-merited contempt of the people The Tribune hastens to assure the public that it was only a question of dollars and cents, and as the Republican party had the most money, therefore it has triumphed. What a stupid libel upon the intelligent masses of the country? It is a stupidity that borders upon idiocy. Does the manager of the Tribune believe that the masses stand in the political market places and sell their suffrages to the highest bidder? He knows better; or, if not, then he is not qualified to conduct a public journal. The reason why Liberal Republicanism dropped dead in its tracks is not obscure. Every observing man in the United States knows what that reason is. We took pains to state it in the early days of the campaign. Liberal Republicanism was projected on the supposition that it was only necessary for a leader to jump the fence, and the entire party would follow at his heels. Then over went Mr. Carl Shurz, and the Germans were expected to follow. But the Germans did not follow Mr. Schurz. Then over went Fenton, and Sumner, and Banks, and Farnsworth, and Greeley, and hosts of Republicans were expected to follow. But hosts of Republicans did not. At last Governor Curtin was induced to take the leap, and hosts of Pennsylvania Republicans were expected to follow. And nobody stirred. Now, after all this experience, even the stupidest of Liberal Republicans ought to comprehend that the movement failed because it was projected on a false hypothesis. The Republican party does not depend on its accredited leaders for its opinions. If it permits any man to lead, it is because it regards him well grounded in the principles upon which it was founded. The day in which even the greatest of its members abandons principles, the party abandons him.—That is why New York rebukes Horace Greeley; the reason why Massachusetts rebukes Sumner and Banks, and the reason why Pennsylvania rebuked Curtin. These gentlemen may turn any side and all sides of this overthrow to the light, and that reason will be seen in unmistakable handwriting. Perhaps it may teach them that the country is greater than any man, or any dozen of distinguished men. Possibly it may take some of the conceit out of them. But whether it teaches them aught, or in aught assists them to estimate themselves reasonably, it will destroy their power to do harm in the future. These men, who admitted that the Republican party had done its work well, and who, in order to destroy it and make a better party, united themselves with a party which did nothing well, have chosen where they will stand. There let them stand, for the American people have so decreed it. Their voices can never again rally Republicans as of old, and even the good they did will be accredited, not to them, but to the spirit of Republicanism working within them.

[For the REPUBLICAN.]

MR EDITOR:—During the month of July, you published a communication of mine, which elicited a reply through the columns of the Centre Hall Reporter, from some one under the nom de guerre of "Amor." Although we can afford to be charitable, yet I have not entirely forgotten his ungentlemanly and unprovoked attack upon me, and would like to remind him of the truthfulness of the statements, and the verification of the predictions, which he then termed "boasting" on my part; and which he said must have emanated from a near relation of "Balaam's Ass." Though why he should claim that I am connected with him by the ties of consanquinity I never could conjecture.

In said article I stated that some of the leading Democrats of Penns Valley would not sustain the confederate candidate, while others were only waiting to see what the 'Watchman' would dictate as their duty, and would then swear fealty to it, be it ever so inconsistent.—That a great many refused to eat the dish of crow prepared for them by Tammany Cook's, has been proven, and that others did eat the impalatable mess, nigger, Tribune, Greeley, and all, is beyond refutation. That it was repugnant "Amor" cannot deny; that, had the people been left alone, they never would have touched it, he will not deny; and that they did eat it, because Meek and others of that ilk advised them to, he dare not deny.

He, "Amor" says the people are not controlled by the 'Watchman,' but that they are able to do their own thinking,—he must have meant drinking. Well! he must be profoundly ignorant of the true province of a newspaper, or else entirely ignores it. The province of a newspaper, besides giving general and local news, is to mould the tastes of the community in which it is read. Let the tone of a newspaper be of a high standard, and the literary tastes of that community, will be of a high standard also; but let it cater to the tastes of a morbid mental appetite, and its accumulated filth sours on the mental stomach, until the entire physique of the literary commonwealth festers into a mass of feverish corruption. The power of the Press cannot be estimated, while the sway of the editorial sceptre is almost unlimited. It is the editor who furnishes the literary food for the masses; his opinions and arguments, on political subjects, are common property, and by continued reading they become fixed in the mind of the reader until he regards them as his own, and then denies the influence of the Press. Yet approach such a man on any new issue, and his ideas are very crude; not even can he be induced to venture an opinion until he has seen the whole subject thoroughly discussed in his newspaper. It is then, that he assumes a loftier position and a more grandiloquent air, and seeks to enlighten his more illiterate neighbor; and yet such persons say "they are independent of their newspapers, and can think for themselves."

Driven to the wall by former defeats, Democracy seeks to array itself in the discarded habiliments of Republicanism, and with a sore-head Republican as leader seeks to get into power; but the disguise proves "too thin," and the result is—well my friend "Amor" after boasting that they would show us all the ballot-box, what they would do, may look at the returns of the election for the result, and particularly do I call his attention to the returns from Centre county, and then turn his gaze towards the source of "ye ancient stream," and direct his footsteps accordingly.

Again in his thesis on honesty he mistook the inuendoes and slanders of some malignant anti-administration editor for the facts in the case and wants to "lay Radicalism in the shade," why, my dear sir, the corporals guard of Democrats in the United States put together would not make a first class shadow.

Yours, truly,

KRINO.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE Nov., 16, '72.

CRESSON ANNIVERSARY.—The Cresson Literary Society, connected with the Agricultural College of Penna., gave to its friends last evening November 15th a very pleasant entertainment. The meeting was held in the College Chapel, which was filled with delighted and appreciative listeners. The exercises consisted of declamations, essays and orations with music vocal and instrumental appropriately interspersed, also a drama entitled the "Smoked Miser."

The young gentlemen who took part in the performances gave evidence of having expended a great deal of labor and thought in the preperation of their parts, so that there was not a single instance of prompting during the evening. This fact of itself was a great excellence which taken in connection with the good taste and judgment displayed in the rendering of the several parts made the entertainment highly creditable to the performers themselves, to the Society so well represented by them and to the College. May the generous rivalry between this Society and its Sister. "The Washington" to excel in all that is noble and praiseworthy, result in the increased prosperity and usefulness of each. After the Literary exercises an hour or two was spent in pleasant social intercourse and discussion of cakes, coffee and ice-cream generously and bountifully furnished by the excellent steward of the College. The universal wish was, when the next Anniversary of "the Cresson" occurs, may I be there to see, hear and enjoy.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

—The aristocracy of mind and heart is the only aristocracy that none wish to destroy.

—Aesthetics is a heavenly ladder, where, like Jacob's, angels pure thoughts and holy aspirations come from and go to God.

—Light, empty minds are ever running after trashy, superficial literature, just as the winds are ever flowing toward the peace where the atmosphere is more rarified.

—Oh how hard it is to die; and not be able to leave the world any better for one's little life in it!

—The rainbow of peace now hangs like a flag of victory on the rear of the cloud of war.

—Gay, giddy, happy Paris, where life is a pastime, and the only reality, death.

—The truly illustrious are they who do not court the praise of the world, but perform the actions which deserve it.

—Dr. Johnson turned upon one of his flatterers once and addressed him thus: "Sir, you have but two topics—yourself and me. I am sick of both!"

—Be polished, but solid. We cannot polish any matter that is not solid. We cannot polish poultry; but we can polish ebony. We cannot polish pumice stone, but we can polish marble. We cannot polish lead, but we can polish gold.

—Young man! suppose you were to "take stock" of yourself to night, where would you be? You are not as respectable as you were a year ago!

—It is a part of my religion never to hurt any man's feelings.

—Ideas go booming through the world louder than cannon.

—Thoughts are mightier than armies. Principles have achieved more victories than horsemen and chariots.

DENTISTRY.—Dr. J. D. Wingate, anticipates sojourning during a short time in his old home and will be glad to meet his friends and patrons at the Butts House, in Bellefonte, on and after Nov. 15th, 1872. To secure DENTAL OPERATIONS it may be necessary to apply early as his time for staying is limited.

While here he is determined to sell his house and lot, and lots, on Lewistown Turnpike amazingly cheap. 44-tf.

EPIZOOTIC.—We met our old friend D. D. McKean, of Walker twp., in town on Saturday last. He informed us that all of his horses were afflicted with the epizootic, and as a matter of course, he was compelled to walk to town—a distance of nine miles. He said the only horse that was not subject to the horse disease was shank's mare.

WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL,

NATURE'S GREAT REMEDY FOR THE Throat & Lungs.

It is gratifying to us to inform the public that Dr. L. Q. C. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial, for Throat and Lung Diseases, has gained an enviable reputation from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and from thence to some of the first families of Europe, not through the press alone, but by persons throughout the States actually benefitted and cured at his office. While he publishes less, so say our reporters, he is unable to supply the demand. It gains and holds its reputation—

First. Not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, which causes irritation.

Second. It removes the cause of irritation (which produces cough) of the mucous membrane and bronchial tubes, assists the lungs to act and throw of the unhealthy secretions, and purifies the blood.

Third. It is free from squills, lobelia, ipicac and opium, of which most throat and lung remedies are composed, which allay cough only, and disorganize the stomach. It has a soothing effect on the stomach, acts on the liver and kidneys, and lymphatic and nervous regions, thus reaching to every part of the system, and in its invigorating and purifying effects it has gained a reputation which it must hold above all others in the market.

500! 500! 500! 500! 500!

Manufactured and Sold Daily, of the

NEW IMPROVED ELIAS HOWE SEWING MACHINE!

THE GREATEST PRODUCTION OF INVENTIVE GENIUS, POINTS OF SUPRIORITY, BEAUTY, CONVENIENCE & DURABILITY. IT WILL LAST A LIFE TIME.

ALL of its wearing parts are made of hardened steel, has no Cog Wheels to Break or Rattle; great adjustability, (self-adjusting take-up) adjustable needle-head, will sew light or heavy goods perfect; makes the nicest hem or fell; will gather and sew on, Cord, Tuck, Braid, Binde, Embroider, or will do any kind of work, even make Crotchet Work Perfect.

This Machine makes the celebrated Lock stitch—the stitch invented by Mr. Howe—alike on both sides. The shuttle tension is upon the thread as it leaves the shuttle, and not upon the bobbin, as in most machines; and this tension is invariable whether the bobbin be full or nearly empty. It is obtained by turning a screw in the shuttle, and can be changed in a moment, without taking out the work, breaking the thread, or threading through holes—This Machine is now hung on hinges, and the trouble of taking it from the table to clean and oil obviated.

What we claim, in substance, is, that this is an Honest Machine, and if put in your family, will do any and all of your work perfectly, will last a lifetime, is a willing and ready servant, and is not subject to FITS.

Persons who have tried all machines are unanimous in declaring this to be the easiest learned of any in the market. In the majority of cases customers learn from the instruction book without further aid.

This Machine is now for sale in your county by Traveling Agents. If you are not called on by them, and you want the Best Machine for the amount of money you pay out, please address I. F. PALMER & CO., Bellefonte, Pa., or, Philipsburg, Pa., either of which places you may live nearest to, and your order will receive prompt attention in person.—Our Machines are sold on easy terms—either by monthly installments, or by NOTE, CASH or PRODUCE at Market Prices. Needles, Oil, Thread and Extra Attachments constantly on hand at our offices. Office at Bellefonte, in Garman's Hotel Building. Call and see styles and sample work.

COMMISSIONERS NOTICE.

Com. of Penna. vs. Alexander Dillon, } No. 33 August T., 1872, Desertion.

The undersigned appointed a Commissioner, to take testimony in this suit and report the same to next Court of Quarter Sessions, to be held on the 4th Monday of November next, will attend to the duties of his appointment, at his office in Bellefonte, on Friday, November 22nd, 1872, at 12 o'clock, M., where and when those interested may attend.

ISAAC LYTLE,
43-4t, Commissioner.

COURT PROCLAMATION.

Whereas the Hon. Charles A. Mayer, President of the court of Common Pleas, in the 25th Judicial District, consisting of the counties of Centre, Clinton and Clearfield, and the Honorable W W Love and the Honorable Henry Popp, Associate Judges in Centre county, having issued their precept, bearing date the 30th day of Oct., A. D., 1872, to me directed for holding a court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery and Quarter Sessions of the Peace in Bellefonte, for the county of Centre, and to commence on the 4th Monday of Nov. next being the 25th day of Nov'br 1872, and to continue two weeks.

Notice is therefore hereby given to the Coroner Justice of the Peace, Aldermen and Constables of the said county of Centre, that they be then and there in their proper persons, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, with their records, inquisitions, examinations, and their own remembrances, to do those things which to their office appertains to be done, and those who are bound in recognizances to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in the Jail of Centre county, be then and there to prosecute against them as it shall be just.

Given under my hand, at Bellefonte, the 30th day of Oct. in the year of our Lord, 1872, and in the ninety-fourth year of the Independence of the United States.

DUTY of TEAS.

THE GREAT AMERICAN TEA COMPANY have business connections with all the principal ports of China and Japan, and Import their Teas direct from place of growth, thus saving the consumer from 5 to 8 profits. It is now about 12 years since the Company was organized—and it has been a splendid success from the very first. This was due to the fact that we imported and sold only and distributed them to our customers in all parts of the United States, for one small profit only, between the Tea-grower and the Tea-consumer. We originated the system of supplying consumers in distant parts of the country with Teas, at New York Cargo Prices, on the Club plan. And since we adopted this plan we have saved the people of this country Millions of Dollars annually, in the cost of this article of every day necessity. Send for Club Circular, which contains full directions, premiums, &c.

THE BEST AND PUREST GOODS,

Don't Kill It.

"Spare a copper, sir, I am starving," were the words of a poor, half-starved, ragged man to a gentleman hastening home one bitter cold night. "Spare a copper, sir, and God will bless you."

Struck with the fellow's manner and appearance, the gentleman stopped and said:

"You look as if you had seen better days. If you will tell me candidly what has been your greatest failing through life. I'll give you enough to pay your lodgings."

"I'm afraid I could hardly do that," the beggar answered with a mournful smile.

"Try, man, try. Here's a shilling to sharpen your memory; only be sure you speak the truth."

The man pressed the coin tightly in his hand, after thinking for nearly a minute, said:

"To be honest with you, then, I believe my greatest fault has been in learning to 'kill time.' When I was a boy I had kind, loving parents, who let me do pretty much as I liked; so I became idle and careless, and never once thought of the change in store for me. In hope that I should one day make my mark in the world, I was sent to college; but there I wasted my time in idle dreaming and expensive amusements. If I had been a poor boy with necessity staring me in the face, I think I should have done better. But somehow I fell into the notion that life was to be one continued holiday. I gradually became fond of wine and company. In a few years my parents both died; you can guess the rest. I soon wasted what little they left me, and it is now too late to combat my old habits. Yes, sir; idleness has ruined me."

"I believe your story," said the gentleman, "and I will tell it to my boys as a warning. I am sorry for you; indeed I am. But it is never too late to reform. Come to my office to-morrow and let me inspire you with fresh courage."

And giving the man a piece of money, and indicating where he could be found, he hurried on.

"Never kill time," boys. He is your best friend. Don't let him slip through your fingers when you are young, as the beggar did. The days of your boyhood are the most precious you will ever see. The habits you form will stick to you like wax. If they are good ones, life will be a pleasure and a true success. You may not grow rich, but your life will be a real success, nevertheless.

If on the contrary, you waste your early years, live for fun only, trifle with your opportunities, you will find after a while that your life is a failure—yes, even if you should be very rich.

REAL merit of any kind cannot long be concealed; it will be discoved, and nothing can depreciate it but a man's exhibiting it himself.

SEE to it that each hour's feelings, and thoughts, and actions are pure and true, then will your life be such.

I HAVE cleaned my mirror, and fixing my eyes upon it, I preceive so many defects in myself that I easily forgive those of others.

WE should not only break the teeth of malice by forgiveness, but break out its stings by forgetfulness.

WE touch not a wire but what vibrates in eternity. Not a voice but reports at the throne of God.

A PHANTOM TRAIN.

THE DEAD LINCOLN'S YEARLY TRIP OVER THE NORTHERN CENTRAL RAILROAD.

A correspondent in the Albany (N. Y.) Evening Times relates a conversation with a superstitious night watchman on the Northern Central Railroad:—"I believe in spirits and ghosts. I know such things exist. If you will come up in April, I will convince you." He then told of the phantom train that every year comes up the road with the body of Abraham Lincoln. Regularly in the month of April, about midnight, the air on the track becomes very keen and cutting. On either side it is warm and still. Every watchman, when he feels this air, steps off the track and sits down to watch. Soon after, the pilot engine, with long black streamers, and a band with black instruments, playing dirges, grinning skeletons sitting all about, will pass up noiselessly, and the very air grows black

If it is moonlight, clouds always come over the moon, and the music seems to linger, as if frozen with horror. A few moments after, and the phantom train glides by. Flags and streamers hang about. The track ahead seems covered with a black carpet, and the wheels are draped with the same. The coffin of the murdered Lincoln is seen lying on the center of a car, and all about it, in the air and the train behind, are vast numbers of blue-coated men, some with coffins on their backs, others leaning on them. It seems, then, that all the vast armies that died during the war are escorting the train of the President. The wind, if blowing, dies away at once, and, over all the earth, a solemn hush, almost stifling, prevail. If a train were passing, its noise would be drowned in the silence, and the phantom train would ride over it. Clocks and watches always stop, and, when, looked at, are found to be from five to eight minutes behind. Everywhere on the road, about the 27th of April, the time of watches and trains is found suddenly behind. This, said the leading watchman, was from the passing of the phantom train.

SETH T. HURD, of the Brownsville Clipper, gets off the following pretty good one on Wm. S. Moore, Esq., of the Washington Reporter, who was recently elected to Congress from this district:

A little previous to the late election a political friend of Mr. Moore introduced him to a certain Irishman, who was and always had been a "dimmekrat," in the hope that by a judicious exercise of Mr. Moore's well-known and winning manners, he might succeed in securing Patrick's vote.

"Mr. Moore," said the friend of the candidate for Congressional honors, "allow me to make you acquainted with Mr. Patrick O'Fallegan."

"Moore, is it! An' I'm very well acquainted with you, Mr. Moore," continued Patrick.

"Ah" returned the candidate, "I don't recollect that I ever had the pleasure of seeing you before; where did you get acquainted with me, Mr. O'Fallegan?"

"I read of ye," replied the latter.

"Indeed! and where did you read of me pray?"

"In the Bible."

"Pray whereabouts in the Bible did you read of me?"

"D'ye niver recollect, along in Ginnisses we rade about Adam an' Ave bein' in the Garden of Aden:"

"O, yes, I recollect the passage very well, but what of that?" inquired the candidate.

"Well, there was one more there!" returned Patrick, with a sly twinkle of the eye.

Mr. Moore, however, denied any kin or relationship to the other Mr. Moore of the Garden of "Aden."

A TEUTONIC ALLEGORY.—An old man was toiling through the burden and heat of the day, in cultivating his field with his own hands, and depositing the promising seed in the fruitful lap of yielding earth. Suddenly there stood before him, under the shade of a huge linden tree, a vision. The old man was struck with amazement.

"I am Solomon," spoke the phantom, in a friendly voice. "What are you doing here, old man?"

"If you are Solomon," replied the venerable laborer, "how can you ask this? In my youth you sent me to the ant; I saw its occupation, and learned from that insect to be industrious and to gather. What I then learned I have followed out to this hour."

"You have only learned half your lesson," replied the spirit. "Go again to the ant, and learn to rest in the winter of your life, and to enjoy what you have gathered up."

A MAN must be bolted and screwed to the community before he can work well for its advancement; and there are no such bolts and screws as children.

How to Live Happy.

Thomas Jefferson wrote the following excellent advice. There is much human nature and good sense in it:

"Harmony in the human state is the very first to be aimed at. Nothing can preserve affection uninterrupted but a firm resolution never to differ in will, and a determination in each to consider the love of others of more value than any object whatever on which a wish had been fixed. How light, in fact, is the sacrifice of any other wish when weighed against the affections of one with whom we are to pass our whole life! And though opposition in a single instance will hardly of itself produce alienation, yet every one has their pouch into which all these little oppositions are put; while that is filling the alienation is insensibly going on, and when filled it is complete. It would puzzle either to say why, because no one difference of opinion has been marked enough to produce a serious effect by itself. But he finds his affections wearied out by a constant dream of little checks and obstacles. Other sources of discontent, very common indeed, are the little cross purposes of husband and wife, in common conversation, a disposition in either to criticise and question whatever the other says, a desire always to demonstrate and make him feel himself in the wrong, especially in company. Nothing is so goading. Much better, therefore, if our companion views a thing in a light different from what we do; leave him if quiet possession of his views. What is the use of rectifying him if the thing be unimportant; let it pass for the present, and wait a softer moment and more conciliatory occasion of reversing the subject together. It is wonderful how many persons are rendered unhappy by inattention to these little rules of prudence."

He Knew Him Like a Book.

This story comes from Bangor, Me:

Near Bangor, in a little village, there lived, many years gone by, a lay member who kept week days a country store, and on Sundays he would preach or exhort around among the neighboring towns where he could find a vacant pulpit.

He was a man of limber tongue, and could sell Yankee notions and preach the Gospel very handy.

It was his way to load up a wagon and peddle all through the country, leaving his store in the charge of his wife in his absence.

Finding himself, late in the week, upon a certain time, too far from home to get back, and having sold out his load, which at that time consisted of dried apples, which, by the way, were a little wormy, he gave notice that he would preach the next day, being Sunday, to the people.

Many gathered to hear him. His text was: 'And by their fruits ye shall know them.' He handled this subject in his usual gallant manner, and, closing up his sermon with a glittering paragraph, he repeated the text. 'Yes, my friends, and by their fruits ye shall know them.'

Just at this point up jumped a retail grocer in the place, that had dealt with the exhorter the night before, and said, loud enough to be heard if the church had been as large again: 'Yes, friend and by the worms in their dried apples, too.'

OUR brains are seventy year clocks. The angel of life winds them up once for all, then close the case, and gives the key into the hands of the angel of resurrection.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind.

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS, and BARKS, (or, as medicinally termed, Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons or ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, when they compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others: no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic.

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1,50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it, will most certainly be cheated.

Who would ask for more Dignified or Stronger Testimony?

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania at present Member of Congress from Pennsylvania, writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1871.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in case of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

HON. JAS. THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania,

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my own experience o it.
Yours, with respect, JAS. THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868.

I have found by experience that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly.
GEORGE SHARSWOOD

HON. JAS. M. WOOD, Ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so weak, as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. WOOD.

REMEMBER
THAT
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Will Cure every Case of
MARASMUS,
Or Wasting away of the Body.
REMEMBER
THAT
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES
Are the medicines you require to purify the Blood, excite the torpid Liver to healthy action, and to enable you to pass safely through any hardships or exposure.

DR. HOOFLAND'S
PODOPHYLLIN,
Or Substitue for Mercury Pills.
TWO PILLS A DOSE.
The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent Vegetable Cathartic Known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain its hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 Arch St., Philadelphia.

VINEGAR BITTERS

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing the merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

THE best Horse Powder in America for sale at Green's Drug Store.

COURT commences next Monday. Let all our delinquent subscribers bring or send us the amount due us. We cannot and will not wait much longer.

ENTERPRISE.—Jno. L. Rogers, of Nittany Hall is said to be one of the best blacksmiths in Centre county. What a blessing it is to farmers to have such a mechanic in their midst.

WHY IS IT?—What is the reason that our city Fathers will not do anything to prevent geese and ducks from swimming, &c., in our beautiful Spring? Why is it? What would be the cost of a neat fence? What tax-payer would complain if the cost was double as much?

COATS, Pants and Vests, custom made, at Montgomery's, No. 7, Brockerhoff Row, will be sold less than cost, and much cheaper than Ready Made. All our own make—must be closed out. Call and examine them.

THE Proprietor of this paper has become a convert to natural subtraction, and says that after nine months experience, he is convinced that the problem of taking one from two—three remains, is true! He is now a father!!

THANKSGIVING DAY.—The Governor of the State Gen. John W. Geary, has in unity with the President of the U. States issued his Proclamation setting apart the 28th inst., as a day of thanksgiving. Now who will supply us with turkies for the occasion?

HORSE DISEASE.—We are informed that the Horse epidemic, has made its appearance in the suburban village of Milesburg, near Bellefonte. Horses may be seen at times in the street with head down, tail stumped, mane dishevelled, coat rough, and other general surface indications of this disease.

LIST of Letters remaining in the Bellefonte Post Office and unclaimed Nov. 18th, 1872.

Jennie Brownwell—2, John Block, Furmin Bertraux, John T Cathcart J. H Cammack, Sarah E Ganster, A. J Hassinger Isaac Leaman James Munch, John McCormick, Mrs. Martha O'Neil, Samuel J. Reasner, Mrs. Nancy E Sener, Jennie Spicer, Peter Foot, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson.

CAPTURED.—Our reporter from Walker township informs us that Horace Greeley is not elected and further informs us that Daniel Dorman, of said township captured a wild cat on Tuesday the 5th inst., in the mountains south of Hubbersburg: The wild cat no doubt would have preferred, that Mr. Dorman had remained at home that day and voted for Grant. As it is, the cat is non est and the fate of Horace very much the same politically—'scat.

OPEN.—The Free Schools are all open in Walker tp., and so far as we can learn in all the townships in the county. Professor Magee, says that teachers are better this year than ever before, and this being the case our people can reasonably expect better results. Great pity the term is so short. Our schools should be open not less than six months in the year. Eight months would be better still.

BIG TURNIP.—C. Dale, Esq., of Harris twp., one of the wealthiest and most enterprising farmers in the county, brought to our office recently a mammoth turnip. It weighed 12¾ pounds, and measured 31 inches in circumference. It was raised on the farm now in the occupancy, of Wm. S Dale, who has over 400 bushels, which he raised in his cornfield, the turnip seed having been sown after the corn was cultivated for the last time. Why do farmers, not raise more turnips, when it can be done so easily and without expence?

VENISON.—On Thursday last Harry K Hicks, salesman of Wilson & Hicks, Winfield Scott Wagner and Robert F. Rankin started out with dogs and gun to have a hunt. They entered the barrens near J. M. Kepharts, Buffalo Run and soon the dogs gave chase to two deer. Harry Hicks being stationed at a crossing soon had the opportunity to shoot, which he did in old hunter style bringing down a fine deer—the Buck escaped. This is the first of Harry's hunting but it has proven him a success. We tasted the venison. It was relished muchly. Thanks.

For the REPUBLICAN.

DISCOVERY.—A large vein or bed of pipe iron-ore, of excellent quality has recently been discovered on the farm of the Stover brothers, of Oak Hall, Harris twp. The vein is fully five feet thick and of unknown extent, and is reached at a depth of three or four feet. The ore is abundant in all contiguous places which have yet been opened and fine specimens of ore, indeed may be picked up from the surface of the ground. Masses of fifty pounds weight or more have been taken out of the shafts which have been sunk for the purpose of testing the presence, and quantity of the ore. The location of the ore is such that it can be readily removed; and the distance to the spot where it is found being not more than a mile from a station of the railroad, through the valley, (L & S. C. R. R) the discovery promises to be of very great value to the enterprising owners of the land. Undiscovered ore no doubt exists in many places in our valleys; but we need men like the Stover brothers, willing to incur expenses, and trouble in unearthing the hidden treasures. L.

RICH TREAT.—Wm. B. Eckly, an intelligent and scientific farmer and fruit grower of Benner tp., brought to our office on Monday last a lot of large and well flavored apples. It is not too much to say that we were both pleased and surprised. Pleased at seeing and receiving the apples, and surprised because our farmers, as a general thing, pay so little attention to their orchards when such apples can be raised in Centre county. What crop, we ask, pays better? In the lot brought us by Mr. Eckley, was the Tompkins county king, Pair-main, Belleflour, Cravenstien, Tolman's sweet, Smoke-house, Wagoner, Pound, Golden Russet and Vandaver. Mr. Eckley, has an orchard of 1000 apple trees, one hundred varieties; 600 peach trees, 150 pear trees, a large number of cherry and plum trees, and over 100 grape vines—35 varieties His apples, pears, peaches and grapes, drew the premium at our late county fair. Wm. B. is gaining notoriety as well as capital by his fruit. Success.

THE NEW COMMISSIONER.—Austin Hinton, Esq., of Snow Shoe, who was elected to the office of County Commissioner at the October election, was inducted into the office on Thursday, the 7th inst. It is needless for us to say that we would have been better pleased, if the people had preferred his competitor and good Republican, John I. Thompson, Esq. But the people did not choose to favor us in this way, and Mr. Hinton is the Commissioner for the next three years. We have known Mr. Hinton from our earliest boy hood, and we have no hesitancy in saying that we know him well and would prefer him (if a Democrat must fill the office) to any other Democrat in the county. We believe him to be an honest man, and now he has a chance to prove himself such to the whole community, friend and foe alike. Let him regardless of the entreaties of the "Ring" set about collecting the out-standing taxes, now in the hands of defaulting collectors. Make them, or their bail pay up, and thus relieve the tax-payer. Why borrow money at 10 or 12 per cent. while these defaulting collectors go scott free? We would also suggest that Meek has skinned the county long enough. Let the county printing be given to the lowest bidder.

NEW PROFESSOR.—The chair of Chemistry and Physics in the Agricultural College, which is now vacant, will be filled at the opening of the next session by Prof. H. Collier, A. M. Prof. C. has acquired an enviable reputation as a thorough and popular instructor during many years of service in Hillsdale College, Michigan; and his coming will undoubtedly be a great advantage to our state institution.

The Agricultural College has had 153 students this year which is the largest number present in any year since its opening. Of these 23 have been females.

NEW GOODS.—James C. Williams, authorizes us to say, that he is constantly receiving new goods from the eastern cities, and that he is now prepared at his store on Allegheny St., room formerly occupied by Jno. B. Awl deceased, to sell goods for cash at the most reasonable rates. Mr. Williams is an energetic business man, honest, upright and just in all his dealings. If you would be treated courteously and kindly and at the same time save money, step in and see him. There too you will find Levi A. Miller who gave Mr. Shaffer so tight a race for Sheriff in the county. Levi is one of the best and most accomodating clerks in town. Ladies and Gentlemen step in.

FURNITURE.—Mr. John. Brechbill authorizes us to say, that he has received another large supply of Boston made furniture, and that he also keeps constantly, a large stock of his own manufacture. Who would sit on a hard old fashioned chair when Mr. Brechbill sells cane bottomed and sofa-bottomed chairs at such reasonable rates? And who would sleep on a hard old fashioned cord bed, when Mr. Brechbill sells spring beds at nearly the same price? He is a reliable, good man, and one of the oldest manufacturers in the town. People just commencing house-keeping, and those old in the business needing furniture, should bear this in mind.

GRAIN AND FEED.—J. M. Wagner & Co., invite the farmers to call at their Mill in Bellefonte, before selling their grain. This firm is now offering the highest market price for grain of all kinds, and at the same time holding out superior inducements to lumbermen, manufacturers and others, to purchase their flour, chop, feed, &c., from them.

WEDDING.—One of these pleasant matramonial affairs in which due homage is paid Hymen, and which always excites a good deal of interest in the social circle of the community, occurred in our town to-day, at the residence of D. M. Wagner Esq. At about half past two o'clock P. M. the many guests and friends of the families having assembled at the residence of the brides father, the bridal party made their debut: Miss Emma Wagner as Bridesmaid supported by Mr. James Harris as Groomsman preceding the Bride and Groom, Miss Rachel Wagner and John Harris. The party being gracefully positioned on the flour, the support being to the right of the Bride and Groom, leaving the Bride and her Maid side by side, protected by the Groom and his Groomsman, the ceremony was performed by Rev. John Roberts, in an easy and imposing manner.

The decree having been issued, making the twain one flesh, the Bride and Groom were first congratulated by the brides parents, then heartly by the many friends present. After the congratulations had ceased, the mutual admirattons expressed, the usual compliments passed, and the examination of the many beautiful and valuable presents received by the bride, and favorable comment upon the same, the guests with the bridal party, were invited to participate in an elegant collatian prepared with epicurean taste and gotten up in recherche style. It is needless to state that the invitation was promptly accepted by all, and that it was fully honored in a most practicable manner. It would be commonplace to say, but as it comes in place, we will remark that the bride looked unusually fair. She was very neatly arrayed in a rich silk dress of a delicate fawn color, handsomely trimmed with beautiful ruffle in the most becoming and appropriate style. The Bridesmaid wore a beautiful blue silk popline trimed with a fan and ruffle in a neat and elegant style, which was most becoming to her graceful person, and presented her in a very fine appearance The Bride and Groom left on the 4.30 train, for Philadelphia, where they intend to remain for several days, and map out an extention of their contemplated bridal tour. The whole affair passed off smoothly and pleasantly, and in manner par excellence. The Bride and Groom also have our congratulations and best wishes, that their life may be one of pleasure, happiness and and prosperity, and as little harrassed as possible.

LADIES who take their little babies to church, where people go to have a quiet snooze, after having digested the first few sentences of the sermon, may take a hint from the following anecdote of a celebrated actor:

It was "better than a play" what John Kemble did one night when performing a favorite part in a country theatre. He had been interrupted from time to time by the crying of a child in the gallery. At length, angered by this rival performance, Kemble walked with solemn step to the footlights, and addressing the audience in his most tragic tones, said, "Ladies and gentlemen, unless the play is stopped the child cannot possibly go on."

NEW FIRM.—There is a new firm at Washington furnace. Barlow, Day & Co., is the name in which they transact business. From what we can learn of these men, they are full of money and energy and intend henceforth to "push things" at Washington Furnace. This will be good for our Walker tp., farmers as it will afford them a good home market for their grain and other products. We wish the new firm success, a long continuous run at present prices. This will make it pay the laboring men.

For the REPUBLICAN.

MR. EDITOR: Will you oblige many Sabbath School workers by announcing the tenth quarterly meeting of the Harris twp., S. S. Institute, at Hunserville, on the 7th of December next, at 10 A. M.

Among the questions proposed to be discussed are, "Why should Sabbath Schools be closed during the winter?" "How can our Sabbath Schools be made more efficient!" All persons connected with Sabbath Schools are urgently invited to attend and participate.

FIRE.—About one o'clock on Sunday morning last, the slumbers of the good citizens of Milesburg, were suddenly broken by the muffled sounds of the Baptist Church bell. The ringing of the bell at this time in the morning, meant something, and it meant some thing serious. A general look-out of the windows into the cold midnight, revealed nothing serious; but notwithstanding the bell kept sounding louder and louder. The immediate impression was that the church was on fire. A hasty hauling on of any kind of clothing, a rambling went all over the house for a stray boot, and a desperate search every where for a hat, and a sharp look towards the sounds of the bell, soon brings in view a dark mass of human beings, in front of the Tin-ware Store of Henry P. Haupt, which is the scene of the fire. A dense smoke is issuing from every crevice; but the fire appeared to be well in hand.

Alex Draucker with his usual coolness is watching bucket in hand for the least appearance of flames. Agnew Moore, is treating the fire in a business way, quietly taking advantage of it, and subduing its inflamatory propensities, with a dash of water directly applied. Esq. J. Miles Green, is busy in a quiet way, T. M. Hall, is giving it his undivided attention. Men are looking after the roof, and men are watching the sides of the building. Buckets of water, a large supply, are waiting the demands of those at the different stations. It does not seem as if there was much danger of any very serious results, when every man knows just what to do. The building which is an old frame is kept closed as much as possible, and the fire is steamed out; and now, that it is opened it appears a marvel, with the simple appliances of common buckets, and water to be brought some distance, that the whole building did not burn down. The inside of the window frames are burned, the inside of the shutters are charred and the walls and everything combustible, in the interior has the appearance of having been on fire.

The fire seems to have originated in the front corner, next the residence of Mrs. Lipton, and no from the stove as was at first supposed. The damage to the stock of H P. Haupt, is considerable, we are not informed as to the amount of his insurance, but believe he is insured. The people of Milesburg appreciate their situation; being without any organized fire association, and deficient in a large supply of water, they nevertheless manage a fire with a skill and intelligence which would do credit to a thoroughly trained fire company. An alarm of fire brings out the men, women and children. Every body does something, and it is truly wonderful how soon the efforts of this apparently inefficient crowd, will get under subjection, what in many places would be a serious fire.

DISINFECTANTS at Green's Drug Store.

WALLACE SISTERS.—The Wallace Sisters were here on Monday and Tuesday night last. They showed in Reynolds' Hall the first evening to a tolerably fair house. Their Bill was very mediocre, tame, gotten up expressly to suit the character of the troupe. Extract from the troupe, the Banjoist Ed. C. Dobson, and there would be no extract left; no fun; no talent; no beauty; no grace; no wit; no humor; no voice; no music; in short know-nothing. The whole troupe as such is a fraud, and very small fraud too, entirely too small to merit anything at the hands of the public but contempt and rejection. In the Opera Burlesque of the Savage Belle, it an took extremely cute, delicate and very nice discernment to ascertain exactly where the Burlesque come in. Whether the acting was a burlesque on the burlesque as written or whether the burlesque as written, was to burlesque Capt. John Smith, of Pocohontas fame and his "unpleasant" associates and surroundings or any other Smith of later date, is the question that was a little mixed as presented to the Audience. The public ought to be informed concerning small impositers and frauds as well as of large ones. We would therefore recommend that, the gullible public in the theater line in our neighboring TOWNS, be on the qui vive for the Wallace Sisters troupe, as it is one of the smallest nonentities, that has ever afflicted our city.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP.—Liberty township rolled up votes for Grant and Wilson. This is not to be wandered at when we remember that the inhabitants thereof are among our most intelligent citizens. All the schools in the township are excellent; but the school house in Eagleville more especially stands as a monument of the liberality and intelligence of the township.

—The new Baptist Church in Eagleville also speaks volumns for the citizens of Liberty township. It is a neat well finished church. The painting is, we think, as good as any we have ever seen. It is a neat and comfortable place to worship and the members realize this fact to the full. The preacher is an excellent citizen and christian gentleman.

—Wm. F. Courter Esq. of Eagleville continues to carry on his extensive Boot & Shoe Manufactory. He is an energetic enterprising man, a good citizen and an enthusiastic Republican. To his energy, perhaps, more than to any other one man the citizens are indebted for their excellent school house and fine church. He supplies the lumbermen of that portion of the county with their boots and shoes. He should prosper, and we are glad to learn that he is not complaining.

—Jas. A. Quigle an enterprising merchant of Eagleville Liberty twp has received a large and well selected stock of dry goods groceries &c. He sells goods as cheap if not cheaper than they can be purchased in Lock Haven and requests the public to call and see for themselves.

—J. I. Kunes, Proprietor of the Hotel in Eagleville keeps one of the best houses in the county. In fact we know of no hotel in the county where the table is so abundantly supplied with the choicest and best of eatables. This property is, immediately, on the road leading from Milesburg to Lock Haven and is one of the best stands in the county. Mr. Kunes has engaged in the mercantile business and now offers this very desirable property for sale. For price and all the particulars apply at the REPUBLICAN office.

—Benj Ligget has one of the best grist mills in the county. He makes a specialty of Buckwheat flour. It is almost impossible to sell Buckwheat flour in this market unless it comes from Liggets Mill. Mr. Ligget himself is a first class man, and if the people had been true to themselves, last fall he would to day be one of our associate Judges. What an improvement he would be on the present incumbents.

—J. W. Adams is busily engaged in the lime business in this township. He has in his employ Saml Parker one of the best lime burners as well as one of the best Republicans in the county. The farmers of Liberty and Howard should lime their land abundantly.

REMEMBER IT.—Devlin & Co., clothiers, of New York city, have discharged from their employ Brother Wm. N. Meshaw, a member of Eureka Council, No. 32, because he saw fit to wear an emblem of our Order. Bear this in mind when you desire to purchase clothing—Mechanics' Advocate.

This must be, and no doubt is, a very enterprising firm; but there is no use in them develin in this way with mechanics or their employees, because they see proper to "were an emblem" of an order they love—an order which elevates and enobles its members.

This is a free country and Grant is President. We intend that it shall remain free forever, and to this end we would council the "Brethren" to wear their emblems whenever and wheresoever they please. To be a member of the O U A M., is the best recommendation a man can have. Its teaching is to make men temperate, industrious, economical and honest in every calling or avocation in life.

All the devil(s)on Pandemonium can not injure the order by a mean spirit of proscription or prejudice; for the reason that our cause is a just one and we have the promise that God is with the Right, always aiding those who help themselves. We join the Advocate in its request to remember this, "when you desire to purchase clothing."

HARDWARE, STOVES &C.—Wilson & Hicks at their large and well filled Hardware Store, are doing a splendid business 1st because they advertise liberally and judiciously; 2nd because they keep constantly on hand every thing which they advertise for sale, and 3rd they are enterprising clever men and take great pleasure in accomodating all who favor them with their custom.

We are authorized to say that they now have for sale the largest assortment of the very best stoves manufactured in this country at greatly reduced prices. Major P. B. Wilson the senior member of the firm is too well known in this community to need any encomiums from us. Mr. Hicks the junior is a man of great energy and enterprise—is as good a business man as he was a faithful and brave soldier.

The book keeper is J. I. Hagerman who is always at his post and the salesman is Harry Hicks, an active genial young man of great energy and promise. This firm we think were fortunate in the selection of their book-keeper and salesman. Persons in need of Hardware, parlor or cook-stoves, should call and see Messrs Wilson & Hicks.

IMPROVED.—We believe, not only that the people of the present generation is not so bad as those of thirty years ago, but that there is a decided improvement for the better. In this we are corroborated by the most reliable religious papers and speakers of the day. The Rev. Torrence in his great lecture on the Bible, delivered in the Presbyterian Church a few weeks since, made the declaration and proved it to a demonstration that the present generation was not nearly so wicked as those of former times and that the present generation was doing more for the spread of the Gospel and the Bible in one year, than our fathers did in scores of years. We believe he was right. We know he was right. And in proof of the fact that Bellefonte is better now, than she was twenty-five years ago we copy the following notice to Gamblers from the Centre Democrat of February 24th 1837.

GAMBLERS BEWARE!!

At a public meeting of the citizens of Bellefonte held at the Court House, February 17th, 1837, to take into consideration, and to inquire into the alledged fact that the town is infested with Gamblers and Blacklegs. The following persons were appointed a committee to carry the object of the meeting into effect, viz:—William C Welch James Gilliland, John Cassidy, Constans Curtin, Hamilton Humes, William Alexander, John Rankin.

I do certify the above to be a correct list of the persons appointed, and of the object of the meeting.

JAMES ROTHROCK, Pre't

ATTEST—J. T. HALE, Sec'y.

The Committee hereby give notice, that they intend to enforce the law against every Gambler and Black Leg, and any person who permits Gambling in his house within the borough of Bellefonte, and call upon all the friends of morality and good order to aid and assist them in the performance of this duty.

WM C. WELCH,
JAS GILLILAND,
WM ALEXANDER,
JOHN CASSIDY,
JOHN RANKIN,
H HUMES,
CONS CURTIN.

When did the present generation have to resort to such means to banish "Gamblers" from our town? We are, therefore, a decided improvement on the past in every thing which tends to build up, enlighten, and to improve the morals of a town.

STOVES, &c.—Messrs Wetzler & Twitmire, at their Stove, Tinware and Sheet-iron Store, in Isaac Gauple's new building, opposite the Bush House, have at all times a large stock of tinware of their own manufacture, and stoves of all sizes and kinds, which they offer remarkably low for cash. Give them a call.

☞BY ONE OF THE LEADING PHYSICIANS of Philadelphia city.—A careful examination of mercury statistics establishes the fact that one adult person out of every six dies of consumption, and as calomel might is this disease gaining the ascendancy over all other ills to which flesh is heir, that its approach to one's immediate circle is regarded with perfect horror. If you will carefully examine the records of Medical Colleges you will invariably discover that the general want of success in treating diseases has not been a deficiency of pathological knowledge of the functions affected, but a suitable compound that would act upon the disease and all the sympathetic affections.

This want has at last been met in the Bitter Wine of Iron, prepared by the celebrated chemist, E. F. Kunkel, No 259 North Ninth street, Philadelphia. This excellent compound can be taken by persons with the most delicate stomach without any debilitating effect always giving strength and largely increasing the nervous energy of the patient. In all cases of pulmonary complaints it is admirably adapted to relieve the severity of the symptoms in the advanced stages of the disease, or to arrest it in its incipiency. If you want something that will give you strength, a good appetite, build up your constitution, and in place of moroseness and a lack of energy, give you a brisk and vigorous feeling, try Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron. It has already received the meed of praise from thousands who have tested its virtues, and for many years maintained its reputation with unabated popularity.

Price $1 per bottle. E. F. KUNKEL, Sole Proprietor, No 259 North Ninth street, below Vine, Philadelphia.
